WE NEED MORE MONEY

The City's Finances Are Not In the Pink of Condition.

AN ADVANCE IN TWO WEEKS

The County Treasurer Will Let Us Have Some on Account, and Then the Agency Will Be Over—The Reason Why There Is No Better Financial Management.

The city is poor just now. We need money, and need it so badly that the county treasurer will grant an advance, and in a few weeks will pay over some on account.

This is an old story, and it has become a custom for county treasurers all over the state to pay a little on account to impecunious municipalities, and Liverpool is no exception. According to law there should be but two payments a year, but another law and the stern necessities of municipal legislatures has made it necessary to double the number. February and September were the months chosen for payment, but now it is allowable for the city treasurer to ask an advance oftener, and they usually get one in December immediately following the twentieth. It is because of this that city officials are not anxious for they know that the money will be here, and in a little while the holes will be filled in the funds, several of which are now overdrawn and empty. In speaking of the matter, which has long ago become an old story, a sensible official, alive to the fitness of things, said:

"There is no reason why there should be only two settlements with the county treasurer instead of four, and I would not be surprised to learn that before many years cities will find this course by far the best. When councils know that they have a fund from which to draw and feel that they will always be on the safe side, even though the money is spent rapidly, they are not going to be so very careful. That has been my experience, and I think it is the experience of everyone who has served time in a municipal government. It stands to reason that a man with a bank account, an income from which he can draw when he gets in a tight place, will be more extravagant than one who can only draw at times, and must then be careful. I do not blame councilmen, for it is not their fault. It is the fault of the system under which they work. When they were inducted into office they found the system in use, and before they would break away from the custom they preferred to follow it without giving much thought as to whether it was right or wrong. Of course that is not conducting business on business principles. That is easily seen by the city's finances. No private corporation could do business very long in that way. The concern would go to the wall, and go in a hurry. I think that too much money is being spent for the amount of income. It is all carelessness of course, but it will be continued until some men get seats in council who will fight the thing to the end and make a change. If every councilman would decide to vote for appropriations within the limits of the income, there would be no drawing on the county treasury. I could give instances of where needed improvements have been made, but they were not absolutely necessary and could have been dispensed with as well as not. The city needs a lot of things all the time, but we can't always afford them and we ought not to have them. I believe there should be more economy, a spirit to move carefully and with caution. Until this is done the funds will always be playing out before the right time, and the city will constantly be in a bad way financially.

"The remedy for this sort of thing is easily found, for my experience has been that city officials want to do right. Let some level-headed man get up in council, declare himself against the thing, and there will be enough to stand by him. In fact it will become the popular side, and while the people may call the city stingy and mean, it will not be long until the force of the argument appeals to every man who owns property, and will bring about a better condition."

WELLSVILLE IS KIND.

The Ladies Auxiliary Must Pay to Distribute Its Bills.

That law of Wellsville, which will not allow the distribution of bills within its sacred precincts unless the owner pays a big fee, should be met in this city by a counter law. Mayor Sinclair was asked by the auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian association the privilege of distributing bills advertising their entertainment, and he looked over the law. Finding that the bills contained the announcement of business men as well as the program, the mayor decided that they came under the law, and the ladies would have to pay the regulation price. This action can not be laid at the door of the mayor, but upon the law, and Liverpool needs a strong retaliatory ordinance. Then our neighborly neighbor may come to its senses.

WELL RENDERED.

The Concert Last Evening Was a Notable Event.

The concert given by Mrs. Gertrude Griffiths-Dix at the Grand Opera House last evening was the most enjoyable musical event of the season and was attended by an interested audience.

Mrs. Dix, the pianist, gave three numbers during the evening and was the accompanist for the others. She plays better than ever, her touch being superb and her standard so high that the audience repeatedly expressed its pleasure. Professor Melvin, the violinist, is not unknown to Liverpool people, and after the first performance was enthusiastically endorsed. Herman Melzer, the cellist, was a delightful surprise, and played with that confidence and ease only gained by long experience. The gentleman came here from Europe to play with a famous orchestra at the World's Fair, and liked the country so well that he never returned. Mrs. Edith Darrah Fry, the soloist, was perhaps the most favored of all. The lady can sing, and sang so well as to bring round after round of applause from her delighted hearers. The concert throughout was a splendid exhibition of talent of a high order, and Mrs. Dix is to be congratulated for giving the city an opportunity to hear such music as it listened to last evening.

ANOTHER LINK.

More Talk of an Electric Road Between Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

A special from Warren says that plans are made for a road from there to Ravenna which would give the Mahoning valley lines connections with the Akron, Barberton & Cleveland road, which runs from Akron to Cleveland. If this is done, as it is believed it will be, Cleveland and Pittsburgh will be joined by an electric road, as lines are already arranged between Youngstown and Beaver Falls. Liverpool will not be on the road, unless that promised road from Columbiana to this city will be built, and this is almost as shadowy as it could well be.

THE LOSS IS HEAVY.

What the Last Rise Cost Unfortunate Coal Men.

If freights are cheap on the river, and coal men say they can make money by shipping the black product on the water, they occasionally have heavy losses through wrecks, and the last rise was an exceptionally expensive one. It is shown that 54 crafts, loaded with 560,000 bushels of coal, went to the bottom of the river, and if to this is added the amount stuck on bars, the total will show 720,000 bushels of a loss, or as much as three ordinary tow boats would attempt to handle. That is the strongest kind of argument for an improved river.

THE FATAL BUTTON.

A Valuable Pointer Succumbs to Poison.

Hal Harker, of the lower part of the city, lost a valuable dog yesterday by poison. The animal was a setter of good blood and was a favorite with its master, who would like very much to find the man who did the deed. This is not the first case during the past few weeks, although the canines who have gone to death before this time have been worthless curs as a rule, whose room was more to be desired than their presence, but the miscreant who stoops to cause the death of valuable dogs should be punished severely.

THAT TREAT.

Liverpool Will Help Make the Little Ones Happy.

Hon. David Boyce is home from Fairmont home, and says that matters there are in excellent condition. Superintendent Southworth will be here tomorrow to arrange for receiving supplies for the donation that is to make the little ones at the home happy on Christmas. The township trustees are also interested in the movement, and hope the charitable people of the city will contribute largely to the donation.

Won the Match.

Tommy Humphreys amused a large audience in the Diamond this morning by winning a walking match, and visions of the days when walking matches were the rage floated through the minds of the witnesses.

OLD PRISONERS OF WAR

Men Who Were in Southern Pens During the War

WILL SOON BE ORGANIZED

The Whole County Included, Although the Movement Is Just Starting in This City—Society Made Up Of Ex-Prisoners Of War To Be Formed—Several in Town.

The veterans of Columbiana county who spent a portion of their time in southern prisons during the late war will soon be organized into a society of their own.

Many of these organizations exist in different parts of the country, and wherever a few ex-prisoners are gathered together they usually unite in some form, and have stated meetings, where they review the days when they suffered and starved in the prison pens of the south. The organizations are, as a rule, very successful, and that is why they want one in this county. There are a large number of ex-prisoners in the county, and it is thought that the society can be formed and maintained with a good membership. Mr. Alex McGraw, of this city, is among the leaders in the movement, and he hopes that all men in the county who were prisoners will take a deep interest, so that a meeting can be arranged in the near future. Mr. McGraw was in Andersonville for months, where he suffered all the indignities the rebels heaped upon Union prisoners. Clerk Gipner, of the water department, is another resident who suffered for months in that awful pen. He was nothing more than a boy at that time, and was in a bad way physically when he was released. Captain Palmer was also a prisoner there, having spent more than a year in the hands of the rebels before he was released. There are others in the city, and if they can get together it will not be long until all the other towns of the county will come in.

NO GAME.

Bethany Could Not Play Tomorrow Afternoon.

Manager Smith, of the football team, announces that the game arranged for tomorrow afternoon will not be played, as it was impossible for the college boys to get here. This winds up the football season, and while the city has not witnessed many games, the players are well satisfied with the sentiment created by the sport. A meeting will be called soon at which arrangements will be commenced and plans mapped out for next season. A first-class team will be organized, and a number of games will be played.

The Acme team, of Steubenville, wanted a game on Friday, but no answer could be sent them until after word came from Bethany, and Manager Smith wrote them today that Liverpool would come to Steubenville on Friday if they still wanted to play.

ANOTHER DEMAND.

East End Wants Passenger Trains to Stop There.

East End has another demand to make of the railroad company, and since the request for a freight agent met with no favorable response, the people in that part of town want the passenger trains to stop in that part of the city. There was a time when the train in the morning and the noon train going east stopped at East End, but the officials discontinued this and now people must come to the city if they want to go east or west. East End is a well developed village of itself and there are many towns along the line giving it much less patronage than not only have trains stop, but have an agent.

MISSING THE TRAIN.

A Laughable Scene at the Passenger Station.

A laughable scene was caused at the passenger station today by a man who wanted to catch the noon train. He ran out of the station waving his arms and shouting just as the train began to move. Finding that this would not stop it, he ran down the platform at a gait that would turn the ordinary sprinter green with envy; but he was too late. He came within a few inches of making the rear platform, but he could not cover the distance, and walked sadly back, while the crowd smiled.

A SIDE SWIPE.

The Republican Press Can Not Forget Our Congressman.

The last issue of the American Economist printed a very good picture of Hon. Robert W. Taylor, of Lisbon, congressman from this district and state secretary of the American Protective Tariff league of Ohio. This is in marked distinction from the other gentleman who represented this district in congress. The only picture we remember seeing of him was the one Tom Reed made of him when he appeared before the ways and means committee asking for the retention of the McKinley duties on pottery.—Salem News.

TO TALK OF GAS.

Trades Council Will Take Up the Subject Tomorrow.

The meeting of Trades council is postponed from this evening until tomorrow night, because of some decidedly important business that comes before the body. It is said that the ordinance reducing the price of gas that was recently introduced into council, will be the principal business to discuss. The council is deeply interested in the question, and is pushing the movement for a lower rate. Whether they will be successful remains to be seen, although it is understood that strong influence will be brought to bear on council, looking to the passage of the bill.

DON'T LIKE IT.

President Cleveland's Reference to the Tariff Condemned.

The president's message was generally discussed in the city today, and words of praise or condemnation could be heard on all sides. The financial policy is generally credited with being good, but the reference to the tariff is looked upon as being a hide bound partisan utterance. The explanation by which the president seeks to cover bond issues comes in for its share of condemnation, but the firm stand in favor of the Monroe doctrine meets with approval. The message complete will be found in the supplement issued with this evening's NEWS REVIEW.

A NEW SYSTEM.

The Clerks May Work Under Different Hours.

A new system of time for the business houses in the city is being talked about, and is meeting with favor from merchants as well as clerks. The idea is to have the stores open until 7:30 o'clock every evening during the months of April, May and June in the spring, and October, November and December at the other end of the year. Business men count in this way that they will have abundant time to supply the trade, and the clerks will not have long hours. It is understood that an effort will be made to push the plan to a success.

A NEW FEED.

Farmers Are Utilizing Ground Corn Cobs For Cattle.

A correspondent writes the NEWS REVIEW that the Kansas idea of feeding cattle what is known as corn and cob meal is being tried in the southern part of the county with success. The cattle consume the feed greedily, and seem to be as well satisfied as though they were getting the corn meal usually fed in spite of the fact that 18 per cent of the new feed is cob. Experiments made in the west show the feed to be nutritious and helpful.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Boatmen Got Too Near a Towboat at Night.

Three men in a boat, evidently residents of West Virginia who had been in the city, were almost run down by a boat on the river yesterday. They had pulled out from shore near the west end of Second street, and did not see the big boat or expected to get out of its way without trouble, but they miscalculated the distance and came near being run down. The names of the parties could not be learned.

TELLING OF ARMENIA.

Joe the Turk Will Speak at the Salvation Army Barracks.

Captain Garabed, the Salvation Army officer, who is known all over the country as "Joe the Turk," will conduct meetings at the barracks on Fourth street, assisted by Captain Parker, on Saturday and Sunday evenings. Captain Garabed will on Saturday night speak of the persecution of Christians in Armenia, and knowing the country and its people, will be in a position to give an interesting address.

REVEREND TALMAGE COMING.

The Pittsburgh Divine Will Preach at the First Presbyterian Church.

Doctor Lee, at the meeting in the First Presbyterian church last evening, announced that Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, of Pittsburgh, would preach at the services tonight. The gentleman, it will be remembered, delivered a sermon in this city when the First Presbyterian church celebrated its fiftieth anniversary last winter. A number of Wellsville people will attend the meeting this evening.

WE HAVE NO JUDGE

Judge Billingsley Telegraphed the Governor Last Night.

THE RESIGNATION WAS ACCEPTED

No Appointment Has Yet Been Made, But the Southern Part of the County Continues to Believe Mr. Smith Will Get the Plum.

W. L. Smith and J. J. Purinton returned at noon today from Columbus, and brought the intelligence that Governor McKinley had not yet appointed a common pleas judge for this county.

The battle for the place has become hot the past few days, and P. M. Smith and Judge Young were represented in Columbus yesterday. The gentlemen who presented their claims were earnest, but Governor McKinley could not see his way clear to make the appointment yesterday, at least no one had been named for the place at a late hour this afternoon. Mr. Purinton stated to a reporter that the case of Mr. Smith was all right, and things were coming his way. Judge Billingsley was anxious to be relieved from duty at once, and wired Governor McKinley last night, asking him to accept the resignation. This, the governor did, and now there is no common pleas judge in the county. All the attorneys were at Mr. Purinton's office this afternoon to hear the report of his trip. Nothing as to the time when the appointment will be made is given out, but good news for the friends of Mr. Smith is expected very soon.

In speaking of the report from Lisbon that it was expected B. S. Ambler would get the appointment, Mr. Purinton said: "Mr. Ambler is working hard for himself, but the friends of P. M. Smith will not admit that he has the appointment by any means. We are for P. M. Smith first, last and all the time. We have beaten Judge Young and now we will have to beat Mr. Ambler."

CAREY WILL STAY.

The Big First Baseman Will Not Be Released.

John McGraw, the man who has made his name famous by playing third base for Baltimore, was interviewed in Buffalo yesterday, and said that Jack Doyle, the new first baseman of the team, would certainly be a great acquisition. He can bat much better than Carey, but cannot begin to reach the Liverpool boy in fielding. As McGraw seemed to be echoing the sentiment that he draws from the atmosphere surrounding the Baltimore club, it is very generally conceded that Carey will retain his old position on the team, and may make a better record next year.

A NEW MOVE.

Street Commissioner Welch Has a Good Scheme.

Commissioner Welch has looked with pity upon people compelled to drive along the Calcutta road and conceived the idea of having them use Avondale street as far as possible. With that end in view, he had his force at work there today gathering up the loose stones and filling in some of the more dangerous ruts. He believes with that improvement the inconvenience of the other street will not be severely felt. Pedestrians will be likely provided for on the Calcutta road by a board walk in the near future.

PREPARING FOR TRADE.

Holiday Goods Are Coming to Town in Large Quantities.

Although the holiday trade has not yet fairly opened, business houses in town are preparing for a rush, and many thousands of dollars have been spent for merchandise. A merchant expressed the belief today that the city would have the best trade it has seen for years, and although there was not as much money in town as usual, he expected to see the stores crowded for the next few weeks. Prices are much lower than usual, and it will be a poor man who can not afford something.

MORE BRIDGE TALK.

The Strangers Have Left Town, but They Will Return.

There is nothing new in the bridge today, although numerous stories are heard about the city. All sorts of ideas are advanced and many projects are laid at the door of the company, but the people who know most about the matter, the only ones who can speak with authority, have nothing to say. They smile blandly when approached, acknowledge that the bridge will be built as they have always done, and then turn the conversation into some other channel.

Bethany Could Not Play Tomorrow Afternoon.

Manager Smith, of the football team, announces that the game arranged for tomorrow afternoon will not be played, as it was impossible for the college boys to get here. This winds up the football season, and while the city has not witnessed many games, the players are well satisfied with the sentiment created by the sport. ANOTHER DEMAND.

East End Wants Passenger Trains to Stop There.

East End has another demand to make of the railroad company, and since the request for a freight agent met with no favorable response, the people in that part of town want the passenger trains to stop in that part of the city. There was a time when the train in the morning and the noon train going east stopped at East End, but the officials discontinued this and now people must come to the city if they want to go east or west. He came within a few inches of making the rear platform, but he could not cover the distance, and walked sadly back, while the crowd smiled.

A SIDE SWIPE.

The Republican Press Can Not Forget Our Congressman.

The last issue of the American Economist printed a very good picture of Hon. Robert W. Taylor, of Lisbon, congressman from this district and state secretary of the American Protective Tariff league of Ohio. This is in marked distinction from the other gentleman who represented this district in congress. The only picture we remember seeing of him was the one Tom Reed made of him when he appeared before the ways and means committee asking for the retention of the McKinley duties on pottery.—Salem News.

TO TALK OF GAS.

Trades Council Will Take Up the Subject Tomorrow.

The meeting of Trades council is postponed from this evening until tomorrow night, because of some decidedly important business that comes before the body. It is said that the ordinance reducing the price of gas that was recently introduced into council, will be the principal business to discuss. The council is deeply interested in the question, and is pushing the movement for a lower rate. Whether they will be successful remains to be seen, although it is understood that strong influence will be brought to bear on council, looking to the passage of the bill.

DON'T LIKE IT.

President Cleveland's Reference to the Tariff Condemned.

The president's message was generally discussed in the city today, and words of praise or condemnation could be heard on all sides. The financial policy is generally credited with being good, but the reference to the tariff is looked upon as being a hide bound partisan utterance. The explanation by which the president seeks to cover bond issues comes in for its share of condemnation, but the firm stand in favor of the Monroe doctrine meets with approval. The message complete will be found in the supplement issued with this evening's News Review.

A NEW SYSTEM.

The Clerks May Work Under Different Hours.

A new system of time for the business houses in the city is being talked about, and is meeting with favor from merchants as well as clerks. The idea is to have the stores open until 7:30 o'clock every evening during the months of April, May and June in the spring, and October, November and December at the other end of the year. Business men count in this way that they will have abundant time to supply the trade, and the clerks will not have long hours. It is understood that an effort will be made to push the plan to a success.

A NEW FEED.

Farmers Are Utilizing Ground Corn Cobs For Cattle.

A correspondent writes the News Review that the Kansas idea of feeding cattle what is known as corn and cob meal is being tried in the southern part of the county with success. The cattle consume the feed greedily, and seem to be as well satisfied as though they were getting the corn meal usually fed in spite of the fact that is per cent of the new feed is cob. Experiments made in the west show the feed to be nutritious and helpful.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Boatmen Got Too Near a Towboat at Night.

Three men in a boat, evidently residents of West Virginia who had been in the city, were almost run down by a boat on the river yesterday. They had pulled out from shore near the west end of Second street, and did not see the big boat or expected to get out of its way without trouble, but they miscalculated the distance and came near being run down. The names of the parties could not be learned.

TELLING OF ARMENIA.

Joe the Turk Will Speak at the Salvation Army Barracks.

Captain Garabed, the Salvation Army officer, who is known all over the country as "Joe the Turk," will conduct meetings at the barracks on Fourth street, assisted by Captain Parker, on Saturday and Sunday evenings. Captain Garabed will on Saturday night speak of the persecution of Christians in Armenia, and knowing the country and its people, will be in a position to give an interesting address.

REVEREND TALMAGE COMING.

The Pittsburg Divine Will Preach at the First Presbyterian Church.

Doctor Lee, at the meeting in the First Presbyterian church last evening, announced that Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, of Pittsburg, would preach at the services tonight. The gentleman, it will be remembered, delivered a sermon in this city when the First Presbyterian church celebrated its fiftieth anniversary last winter. A number of Wellsville people will attend the meeting this evening.

WE HAVE NO JUDGE

Judge Billingsley Telegraphed the Governor Last Night.

THE RESIGNATION WAS ACCEPTED

No Appointment Has Yet Been Made, But the Southern Part of the County Continues to Believe Mr. Smith Will Get the Plum.

W. L. Smith and J. J. Purinton returned at noon today from Columbus, and brought the intelligence that Governor McKinley had not yet appointed a common pleas judge for this county.

The battle for the place has become hot the past few days, and P. M. Smith and Judge Young were represented in Columbus yesterday. The gentlemen who presented their claims were earnest, but Governor McKinley could not see his way clear to make the appointment yesterday, at least no one had been named for the place at a late hour this afternoon. Mr. Purinton stated to a reporter that the case of Mr. Smith was all right, and things were coming his way. Judge Billingsley was anxious to be relieved from duty at once, and wired Governor McKinley last night, asking him to accept the resignation. This, the governor did, and now there is no common pleas judge in the county. All the attorneys were at Mr. Purinton's office this afternoon to hear the report of his trip. Nothing as to the time when the appointment will be made is given out, but good news for the friends of Mr. Smith is expected very soon.

In speaking of the report from Lisbon that it was expected B. S. Ambler would get the appointment, Mr. Purinton said: "Mr. Ambler is working hard for himself, but the friends of P. M. Smith will not admit that he has the appointment by any means. We are for P. M. Smith first, last and all the time. We have beaten Judge Young and now we will have to beat Mr. Ambler."

CAREY WILL STAY.

The Big First Baseman Will Not Be Released.

John McGraw, the man who has made his name famous by playing third base for Baltimore, was interviewed in Buffalo yesterday, and said that Jack Doyle, the new first baseman of the team, would certainly be a great acquisition. He can bat much better than Carey, but cannot begin to reach the Liverpool boy in fielding. As McGraw seemed to be echoing the sentiment that he draws from the atmosphere surrounding the Baltimore club, it is very generally conceded that Carey will retain his old position on the team, and may make a better record next year.

A NEW MOVE.

Street Commissioner Welch Has a Good Scheme.

Commissioner Welch has looked with pity upon people compelled to drive along the Calcutta road and conceived the idea of having them use Avondale street as far as possible. With that end in view, he had his force at work there today gathering up the loose stones and filling in some of the more dangerous ruts. He believes with that improvement the inconvenience of the other street will not be severely felt. Pedestrians will be likely provided for on the Calcutta road by a board walk in the near future.

PREPARING FOR TRADE.

Holiday Goods Are Coming to Town in Large Quantities.

Although the holiday trade has not yet fairly opened, business houses in town are preparing for a rush, and many thousands of dollars have been spent for merchandise. A merchant expressed the belief today that the city would have the best trade it has seen for years, and although there was not as much money in town as usual, he expected to see the stores crowded for the next few weeks. Prices are much lower than usual, and it will be a poor man who can not afford something.

MORE BRIDGE TALK.

The Strangers Have Left Town, but They Will Return.

There is nothing new in the bridge today, although numerous stories are heard about the city. All sorts of ideas are advanced and many projects are laid at the door of the company, but the people who know most about the matter, the only ones who can speak with authority, have nothing to say. They smile blandly when approached, acknowledge that the bridge will be built as they have always done, and then turn the conversation into some other channel.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, DEC. 4.

For President,

WILLIAM MCKINLEY,

OF Ohio.

MR. REED and gentlemen of the house, please give us back that pottery duty that the last Democratic congress took away.

The president's message was a surprise, for his supporters have long been saying that he would this time

show his claims to being classed

among statesmen.

MR. CLEVELAND's reference to the Monroe doctrine sounds as though he winked the other eye when he wrote

the words. Certain it is that the president's policy in the past does not fit well with his last expression.

FOR BETTER ROADS.

If the legislators would draw nearer to the people than the members of any general assembly has been for many years, they should not allow the next session to pass without some legislation that will make better roads for Ohio. They are needed in every part of the state, and there is not a county

but what would be benefited in a great measure. The farming and business interests would derive perhaps more direct benefit than any other, but the people as a whole would reap some good. When winter comes and the mud becomes so deep that farmers,

only under great stress, consent to seek the markets, the mechanic and

the merchant pays for bad roads in high prices for produce. Butter and eggs become scarce, and while

they seem a small part of the world,

the amount of money spent in increased prices, that could not be charged if the markets were full of them every day, would soon build all the roads the state needs. We do not for a moment think that good roads

are decreed by the average legislator

because he believes Ohio does not need them, but there is no denying that this matter has been belittled and decried in the past, and the time is coming when it will be most important issue.

Democrats Say Little About the President's Message.

REPUBLICANS MUCH PLEASED

With the President's Attitude on Foreign Affairs, Especially Regarding Venezuela—They Don't Like the Financial Feature—English Comments.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The Republicans of the senate do not approve the president's message, so far as it concerns finances. It matters not whether they be silver men or not, they all have something to say against it. Many senators expressed the opinion that the message was disappointing because it did not provide a method for raising revenue. All of the Republicans who are known as sound money men were especially disappointed on account of this feature of the message. The silver men were, of course, very emphatic in their disapproval of the president's views on silver. For the most part,

however, the Republicans spoke in terms of approval of the position of the president regarding foreign affairs,

but more especially as to what he said

about Venezuela. The silver Democrats had very little to say regarding the message, and it was for the most part

a disappointment for them. There was a general impression in the senate that the proposition of the president to retire the greenbacks would not be successful.

Both curiosity and interest were manifested by the members of the house in the president's message. Members expressed surprise that no recommendation was made for the supply of the treasury deficit. In the discussion of foreign affairs the portion devoted to the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine

in connection with the boundary line

dispute and the suggestions regarding

Cuba attracted special attention, but

main interest centered in the recommendations for the retirement of the greenbacks and the extension of the national banking system. Several of the Democratic leaders who differ with the president on the financial question

refused to express their opinions for publication.

ENGLISH OPINIONS

Comments of Different London Journals

on the President's Message.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The newspapers today very generally contain editorial

comments upon President Cleveland's message to congress. The Graphic says: "The crudities and indiscretions

of President Cleveland's present pronouncements on foreign affairs might have been evolved by the late Mr.

Blaine in his worst mood. Can anything be more absurd than the proposal that the Schomburgk line in Venezuela

should be submitted to arbitration?

The reference to Cuba is infinitely more injudicious. It is virtually an expression of sympathy with filibustering.

The Standard, the Conservative organ, says: "We cannot but regret the tone of President Cleveland's references to Venezuela. If we may judge of the tone and substance of Mr. Olney's dispatch from the paraphrase thus imparted to congress, we are not surprised that no answer has been received, and we further undertake to predict that when the reply reaches the white house

it will furnish the president with a deal of matter for serious reflection.

We must be pardoned if we venture to say that the whole passage referring to

Venezuela is a tissue of unreal assumptions and unsupported deductions. If the Americans desire to carry out the views expressed they will do so after due calculation of the cost. Even if we were eager for arbitration the experience in the Bering sea controversy would hardly encourage us. It is not easy to argue calmly when we find

President Cleveland has already prejudged the merits of the case. But even strong states have rights, and though Great Britain is able to maintain her dignity and interests, it ought not to be a mark for public affront in the president's message. We are not much impressed with his currency proposals.

He suggests a palliative and not a currency cure.

The Post (Conservative) says: "As regards Samoa and Venezuela, the message appears to be framed on lines

which Senator Chandler might approve.

In regard to China, there are similar signs of a disposition to conciliate the feelings of popular agitators. The things are incidents of every presen-

tial campaign, and President Cleveland

never pretended to be superior to them."

The Times' editorial says: "President Cleveland has drawn a startling

picture of the difficulties created by the vicious currency system, and we shall be greatly surprised if the plans he suggests are not warmly welcomed by business men throughout the states.

But, flushed by electoral victories, it is probable enough that the Republicans will refuse to allow anything to be done in the direction indicated. Nothing, he says, commits him to a new or aggressive foreign policy.

The Daily News, the Liberal organ,

says: "President Cleveland knows better than most that the Monroe doctrine

as it is a rule of international law.

It is neither dignified nor politic for the administration at Washington to take up the quarrels of South American communities which do not observe the usages of civilized nations. America will find some day that this sort of patronage involves a corresponding responsibility, and they will not like that at all."

tion.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

His Foreign Policy Outlined in a Clear, Concise Style.

HIS VIEWS ON FINANCE

Given at Great Length and in a Very Frank Manner.

SLAPS MADE AT PROTECTION.

Thinks That Had Much to Do With Financial Depression.

FREE SILVER COINAGE SUMMED UP.

In Conclusion, He Says If His Recommendations Are Not Approved He Stands Ready to Approve Something Better.

To the Congress of the United States:

The present assemblage of the legislative branch of our government occurs at a time when the interests of our people and the needs of the country give especial prominence to the condition of our foreign relations and the exigencies of our national finances. The reports of the heads of the several administrative departments of the government fully and plainly exhibit what has been accomplished within the scope of the respective duties and present such recommendations for the betterment of our country's condition as patriotic and intelligent labor and observation suggest.

In January last, the Argentine Republic, recognizing the value of the large market opened to the free importation of its wools under our last tariff act, has admitted certain products of the United States to entry at reduced duties. It is pleasing to note that the efforts we have made to enlarge the exchanges of trade on a sound basis of mutual benefit are in this instance appreciated by the country from which our woolen factories draw their needful supply of raw material.

Resumption of specie payments by Chile is a step of great interest and importance both in its direct consequence upon her own welfare and as opening the ascendancy of sound financial principles in one of the most influential of the South American republics.

The close of the momentous struggle between China and Japan, while relieving the diplomatic agencies of this government from the delicate duty of an undertaking at the request of both countries of rendering such service to the subjects of either belligerent within the territorial limits of the other as our neutral position compelled us to develop a domestic condition in the Chinese empire which has caused much anxiety and called for prompt and careful attention. Either as a result of a weak control by the central government over the provincial authorities, or following a diminution of traditional governmental authority under the stress of an opportunity of the aversion of the Chinese population to all foreign ways and undertakings, there have occurred in wide-spread provinces of China serious outbreaks of the old fanatical spirit against foreigners, which, unchecked by the local authorities, if not actually fanned by them, have culminated in an attack on foreign missionary stations causing much destruction of property and attended with personal injuries as well as loss of life.

Although but one American citizen was reported to have been actually wounded although the destruction of property and the loss of life have fallen heavily upon the missionaries and other nationalities than our own, it plainly behooved this government to take the most prompt and decided action to guard against similar or perhaps more dire calamities befalling the hundreds of American mission stations which have grown up throughout the interior of China under the temperate

RULE OF TOLERATION. Custom and imperial edict. The demands of the United States and other powers for the degradation and punishment of the responsible officials of the respective provinces, who, by neglect or otherwise, had permitted uprisings, and for the adoption of stern measures by the emperor's government for the protection of the life and property of foreigners, were followed by the disgrace and dismissal of certain provincial officials, the desertion of duty, and the punishment by death of a number of those adjudged guilty of actual participation in the outrages.

China will not forget our kindly service to her citizens during her late war nor the further fact, that while furnishing all the facilities at our command to further the negotiation of a treaty between her and Japan, we sought no advantages and interposed no counsel. The governments of both China and Japan have in special dispatches transmitted through their respective diplomatic representatives expressed in the most pleasing manner their grateful appreciation of our assistance to her in the peaceful settlement of her unhappy struggle and of the aid we have given in paving the way to their resumption of peaceful relations.

The customary cordial relations between this country and France have been undisturbed with the exception that a full explanation of the TREATMENT OF JOHN L. WALLER by the expeditionary military authorities of France still remains to be given. Mr. Waller, formerly United States consul at Tamatave, remained in Madagascar after his term of office expired and was apparently engaged in procuring business concessions from the Hovas of greater or less value. After the occupation of Tamatave and the declaration of martial law by the French, he was arrested upon various charges, among them that of communicating military information to the enemies of France, was tried and convicted by a military tribunal and sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment. Following the course justified by abundant precedents, this government requested from that of France the record of the proceedings of the French military tribunal which resulted in Mr. Waller's condemnation.

This request has been complied with to the extent of supplying a copy of the official record, from which appear the constitution and organization of the general court, charges as formulated and the general course and result of the trial, and by which it is shown that Mr. Waller was tried in open court and defended by counsel; but the evidence adduced in support of the charges French minister for foreign affairs till the first week in October, has thus far been withheld, the French government taking the ground that its production in response to our demand would establish a precedent.

The efforts of our ambassador to procure it, however, though impeded by recent changes in the French ministry, have not been relaxed, and it is confidently expected that some SATISFACTORY SOLUTION of the matter will shortly be reached. Meanwhile, it appears that Mr. Waller's confinement has every alleviation which the state of his health and all the other circumstances of the case demand or permit. In agreeable contrast to the differences above noted respecting the matter of common concern there is nothing to suggest except such a mutually satisfactory outcome of the merits of the case require, is the recent resolution of the French chambers favoring the conclusion of a permanent treaty of arbitration between the two countries.

In our dealings with other nations we ought to be openhanded and scrupulously fair. This should be our policy as a producing nation, and it plainly becomes us as a people who love generosity and the moral aspects of national good faith and reciprocal forbearance. These considerations should not, however, constrain us to submit to unfair discrimination nor to acquiesce in vexatious hindrances to the enjoyment of our share of the legitimate advantages of commerce.

PROPER TRADE RELATIONS. If an examination of the situation suggests such measures on our part as would involve restrictions similar to those from which we suffer, the way to such a course is easy. It should, however, by no means be lightly entered upon, since the necessity for the inauguration of such a policy would be regretted by the best sentiment of our people, and because it naturally and logically might lead to consequences of the greatest character.

Our relations with Great Britain, always intimate and important, have demanded during the past year even a greater share of consideration than several vexatious questions were left unattended by the decision of the British Secretary of State, the application of the principles laid down by that august body has not been followed by the results they were intended to accomplish, either because the principles themselves lacked in breadth and definiteness or because their execution has been imperfect. Much correspondence has been exchanged between the two governments on the subject of preventing the exterminating

SLAUGHTER OF SEALS. The understanding by which the United States was to pay and Great Britain to receive a lump sum of $425,000 in full settlement of all British claims for damages arising from our seizures of British sealing vessels authorized under the award of the Arbitral Tribunal of Arbitration, was not fulfilled, and the matter has declined to make any further propositions. I am still of the opinion that this arrangement was judicious and advantageous one for the government, and I earnestly recommend that it be again considered and sanctioned.

If, however, this does not meet with the favor of congress it certainly will hardly dissent from the proposition that the government is bound by every consideration of honor and good faith to provide for the speedy adjustment of these claims by arbitration, the only other alternative. A treaty of arbitration has, therefore, been agreed upon and will be immediately laid before the senate, so that in one of the suggestions a final settlement may be reached.

The commissioners appointed to mark the international boundary in Passamaquoddy bay according to the description of the treaty of Ghent have just returned, and the completion of the preliminary survey of the Alaskan boundary which follows the contour of the coast from the most southern point of Prince of Wales island until it strikes the one hundred and forty-first meridian at or near the summit of Mount St. Elias, awaits further necessary appropriation, which is urgently recommended.

The ascertainment of a given meridian at a particular point is a work requiring such time and careful observation as cannot be hurried. Since the surveys and surveys were undertaken by the United States Geodetic Survey in 1890 and 1891, while similar work in the same quarter under British auspices are believed to give nearly coincident results, but these surveys have been incontestably conducted and no international agreement to mark those or any other parts of the one hundred and forty-first meridian by permanent monuments has yet been made.

A JOINT DELIMITATION of the one hundred and forty-first meridian by an international commission of experts, which, if congress will authorize and make due provisions therefor, will be accomplished with the least possible delay, and will tend to overlook the vital importance of continuing the work already entered upon, and supplementing it by further effective measures looking to the exact location of this entire boundary line.

I call attention to the unsatisfactory delimitation of the boundary between the United States and the Dominion of Canada in the great lakes at the approaches to the narrow waters that connect them. The waters in question are frequented by fishermen of both nationalities and their nets are there used. Owing to the uncertainty and ignorance as to the true boundary, vexatious disputes and injurious seizures of boats and nets by Canadian fishermen often occur, while any positive determination thereof by an accepted standard is not easily to be reached. A joint commission to determine the line in those quarters on a practical basis by measured courses following range marks on shore is in necessity made.

It being apparent that the boundary dispute between Great Britain and the Republic of Venezuela concerning the limits of the Guianas, a definite statement of the interest and policy of the United States as regards the controversy seemed to be required both on its own accord and in view of the relations of friendly powers of the world. In July, last, therefore, a dispatch was addressed to the British government, in which the attitude of the United States was fully and distinctly set forth.

The general conclusion therein reached was formulated and established policy that the tradition and established policy of this government is firmly opposed to a forcible increase by any European power of its territorial possessions on this continent; that this policy is as well supported by numerous precedents; that as a consequence of this policy, it is bound to provide the United States with the area of British Guiana in derogation of the rights and against the will of Venezuela; that, considering the disparity in strength of Great Britain and Venezuela, the territorial dispute between them can be reasonably settled only by friendly and impartial arbitration; and that the resort to such arbitration should include the whole controversy, and is not satisfied if one of the powers concerned is permitted to draw an arbitrary line through the territory in debate and declare that it will submit to arbitration only the portion lying on one side of it.

In view of these conclusions, the dispatch in question was upon the British government for a definite answer to the question whether it would or would not submit the territorial controversy between itself and Venezuela in its entirety to impartial arbitration.

The answer of the British government has not yet been received, but is expected shortly, when further communication on the subject will probably be made to congress.

HAWAIIAN REBELLION.

Early in January last an uprising against the Government of Hawaii was promptly suppressed. Martial law was first proclaimed, and numerous arrests were made of persons suspected of being connected with the royalist party. Among these were several citizens of the United States, who were either convicted by military court and sentenced to death, imprisonment for life, or deported without trial. The United States, while denying protection to such as had taken the Hawaiian oath of allegiance, insisted that martial law, though altering the forms of justice, could not supersede justice itself, and demanded stay of execution until the proceedings had been submitted to this government and knowledge obtained therefrom that our citizens had received fair trial. The death sentences were subsequently commuted and were remitted on condition of leaving the islands. The cases of certain Americans arrested and expelled by arbitrary order without formal charge or trial have attracted late world-wide attention and have been followed by justifications of remonstrance and claim for indemnity which Hawaii has not thus far conceded.

THE DEPLORABLE LYNCHING of several Italian laborers in Colorado was naturally followed by international representation, and I am happy to say that the best efforts of the state in which the outrages occurred have been put forth to discover and punish the authors of this atrocious crime. The dependent families of the unfortunate victims invite by their deplorable condition the most gracious provision for their needs.

The manifestations against helpless aliens may be traced through successive stages to the vicious Padrone system, which, unchecked by our immigration and labor laws, controls these workers, arbitrarily deprives them of their wages, and farms them out in distant and often remote regions, where there cheapening competition in the fields of bread winning and brings them in collision with other labor interests. While welcoming, as we should, those who seek our shores to merge themselves in our body politic and win personal competence by honest efforts, we can not regard such assemblies of distressed alien laborers, hired out in the market to the profit of alien speculators and shipped hither and thither as the prospect of gain may dictate, as otherwise than repugnant to the spirit of our civilization, detrimental to the general welfare, and hindrances to the building up of stable communities resting upon the wholesome ambitions of the citizen and constituting the prime factor in the prosperity and progress of our nation.

THE MEXICAN BOUNDARY. The commission appointed under the convention of February 18, 1893, to set the boundary between the United States and Mexico has completed its task.

As a sequel to the failure of a scheme for the colonization in Mexico of negroes, mostly immigrants from Alaska under contract, a great number of these helpless and suffering people—starving and smitten with contagious disease—made their way, or were assisted to the frontier, where, in order to escape the pestilence, they were turned by the Texas authorities. Since that time, by the voluntary act of the Mosquito Nation, the territory reserved to them has been incorporated with Nicaragua, the Indians formally subjecting themselves to the jurisdiction by the general laws and regulations of the republic, instead of by their own customs and regulations, and thus availing themselves of a privilege secured to them by the treaty between the United States and Great Britain of January 28, 1850. After this extension of uniform Nicaraguan administration to the Mosquito strip, the case of the British vice consul, Hatch, and of several of his countrymen, had been settled.

SUMMARILY EXPELLED from Nicaragua and treated with contemptuous indifference by the government of Great Britain upon Nicaragua for pecuniary indemnity, which, upon Nicaragua's refusal to admit liability, was enforced by Great Britain. Throughout this incident, the kindness of the United States were invoked and were employed in favor of as peaceful a settlement and as much consideration and indulgence toward Nicaragua as were consistent with the nature of the case. The result has been made the subject of appreciation and grateful recognition by Nicaragua.

The coronation of the czar of Russia at Moscow invited the ceremonial participation of the United States, and in accordance with usage and diplomatic propriety our minister to the imperial courts has been directed to represent our government on the occasion.

Correspondence on foot touching the practice of Russian consuls within the jurisdiction of the United States to interrogate citizens as to their race and religious faith and upon ascertainment thereof to deny to Jews authentication of passes and of legal documents for use in Russia. Inasmuch as such a proceeding imposes a disability, which in the case of succession to property in Russia may be found to infringe the treaty rights of our citizens, and which is an obnoxious invasion of territorial jurisdiction, it has elicited fitting remonstrance, the result of which it is hoped will remove the cause of complaint.

The pending claims of sealing vessels of the United States seized in Russian waters remains unadjusted. Our recent convention with Russia establishing a modus vivendi as to impartial jurisdiction in such cases has prevented further delay. The Russian government has welcomed in principle our suggestion for a modus vivendi, to embrace Great Britain and Japan, looking to the better preservation of seal life and the extension of the protected area defined by the Paris Tribunal to all Pacific waters north of the thirty-fifth parallel.

CUBA DISTURBED.

Cuba is again gravely disturbed. An insurrection in some respects more active than that of the preceding revolt, which continued from 1893 to 1895, now exists in a large part of the eastern interior of the island, menacing even the capital. The insurrection is a serious danger to the island, of which our country takes the prominent share, this flagrant condition of hostilities by arousing sentimental sympathy and inciting adventurous support among our people, has entitled earnest effort to suppress it to the consideration of the government to enforce obedience to our authority and to prevent the territory of the United States from being abused as a vantage ground from which to aid those in arms against Spanish sovereignty.

TURKISH SITUATION.

Occurrences in Turkey have continued to excite concern. The reported changes in the constitution and the development thereof and in other districts of fanatic hostility to Christian influences naturally excited apprehension for the safety of the devoted men and women who, as dependents of the foreign missionary societies in the United States, reside in Turkey under the guarantee of law and usage and in the legitimate performance of their educational and religious mission. No efforts have been spared in the United States to secure their safety, and property has been earnestly and vigorously enforced by every means within our power.

In view of the growth of our interests in Turkey, and the consequent prospects for a general expansion of our commerce, the question of an improvement in the

CONSULAR SERVICE.

Has increased in importance and urgency. Though there is no doubt that the great body of consular officers are rendering valuable services to the trade and commerce of our country, and of some plan of appointment and control which would tend to secure higher average of efficiency can not be denied. The importance of the subject has led the executive to consider what steps should be taken to secure without additional legislation, to answer the need of a better system of consular appointments. The matter having been committed to the consideration of the secretary of state, and the necessary recommendations, a bill was introduced on the 20th of September, 1895, by the terms of which it is provided that after that date any vacancy in a consulate or commercial agency with an annual fee of not more than $2500 or less than $1000 should be filled either by transfer or promotion from some other position under the state department.

NATIONAL FINANCES.

As we turn from the review of our foreign relations to the consideration of our national financial situation we are immediately aware that we approach a subject of domestic concern more important than any other that presents in such a perplexing and delicate predicament as to require prompt and wise treatment, we may well be encouraged to earnest effort in this direction when we recall the steps already taken to recognize and meet our economic and financial situation, and when we appreciate how well the way has been prepared for further progress by an aroused and intelligent popular interest in the subject.

By contract of the people a customs revenue system designed for the protection and benefit of favored classes at the expense of the great mass of our countrymen, and which while inefficient for this purpose of revenue curtailed the trade and impeded our entrance to the markets of the world, has been superseded by a tariff policy which in principle is based upon a denial of the right of the government to recognize and meet our economic and financial situation, and when we appreciate how well the way has been prepared for further progress by an aroused and intelligent popular interest in the subject.

The compulsory purchase and coinage of silver by the government unchecked and unregulated by business conditions and heedless of our currency needs, which for more than fifteen years has been accumulating medium, undermining confidence in the financial ability, and at last culminated in distress and panic at home, has been recently stopped by the repeal of the laws which forced this reckless scheme upon the people.

The things thus accomplished, notwithstanding their extreme importance and beneficent effects, fall far short of curing the monetary evils from which we suffer as a result of long and unwise and ill advised financial expedients.

The currency denominated United States notes, and commonly known as greenbacks, was issued in large volume during the civil war and was intended originally to meet the exigencies of that period. It will be seen by a reference to the debates in congress at the time the laws were passed authorizing the issue of these notes, that the government was intended for only temporary use and to meet the emergency of war. In almost if not all the laws relating to them some provision was made contemplating their voluntary or compulsory redemption for a large quantity of gold, however, were kept on foot and mingled with the currency of the country, so that at the close of the year 1874 they amounted to $381,999,073.

Manually at the time of the January, 1875, a law was passed providing for the resumption of specie payments, by which the secretary of the treasury was required, whenever additional gold was available, to retire United States notes equal in amount to 80 per cent of such additional national bank circulation until such notes were reduced to $300,000,000. This law further provided that on the 1st day of January, 1879, the United States notes then outstanding should be redeemed in coin, and in order to provide and prepare for such redemption the secretary of the treasury was authorized not only to use any surplus revenues of the government, but to issue bonds of the United States and dispose of them for coin, and to use the proceeds for the purposes contemplated by the statute.

There has been issued and sold $95,000,000 of the bonds authorized by the resumption act of 1875, the proceeds of which, together with other gold in the treasury, created a gold fund deemed sufficient to meet the demands which might be made upon it for the redemption of the outstanding United States notes. This fund, together with other gold as might be from time to time in the treasury available for the same purpose, has been since called our gold reserve, and $100,000,000 has been set aside for the purpose of meeting the demand of the law for the redemption of the bonds on the 1st day of January, 1879, and though thereafter constantly fluctuating it did not fall below that sum in July, 1892. In April, 1892, for the first time since its establishment, this gold reserve amounted to less than $100,000,000, containing at that date only $97,011,330.

In the meantime, and in July, 1890,

an act had been passed directing larger governmental monthly purchases of silver than has in a required and previous laws, and providing that in payment for such silver treasury notes of the United States should be issued payable on demand in gold or silver coin at the discretion of the secretary of the treasury. It was, however, declared in this act to be the established policy of the United States to maintain the two metals on a parity with each other upon the present legal ratio, or such ratio as may be provided by law.

In view of this declaration it was not deemed permissible for the secretary of the treasury to exercise the discretion in terms conferred on him by refusing to pay gold on these notes when demanded, because by such discrimination in favor of the gold dollar the so-called parity of the two metals would be destroyed and grave and dangerous consequences would be precipitated by affirming or accentuating the constantly widening disparity between their actual values under the existing rates.

It thus resulted that the treasury notes issued in payment of silver purchases under the law of 1890 were necessarily treated as gold obligations at the option of the holder. These notes were last day of November, 1893, when the law compelling the monthly purchase of silver was repealed, amounted to more than $155,000,000. The notes of this description now outstanding, added to the United States notes still undiminished by redemption or cancellation, constituted a sum of obligations amounting to $500,000,000. These obligations are the instruments which ever since we have had a gold reserve have been used to Fifty millions of these bonds were sold, yielding $58,633,295, which was added to the reserve fund of gold then on hand. As a result of this operation this reserve, which had suffered constant and heavy losses by withdrawal, meantime, stood on the 4th of March, 1894, at the sum of $107,446,842. Its depletion was, however, immediately thereafter so accelerated that on the 30th day of June, 1894, it had fallen to $48,732,925, thus losing by withdrawal more than $122,000,000 in five months and dropping slightly below its situation when the sale of $50,000,000 in bonds was effected for its replenishment.

This reserve, however, continued to grow, and on the 24th day of November, 1894, our gold reserve, being reduced to $57,669,761. It became necessary to again strengthen it. This was done by a sale of bonds, amounting to $50,000,000, from which the government received $58,538,500, with which the fund was increased to $111,142,021 on the 4th day of December, 1894.

Again disappointment awaited the anxious hope for relief. There was not even a full in the resuscitating withdrawal of gold. On the contrary, the gold reserve grew larger and more persistent than ever. Between the 4th day of December, 1894, and early in February, 1895, a total of scarcely more than two months after the sale by withdrawal of our gold reserve by the sale of bonds, it had lost by such withdrawals more than $69,000,000, and had fallen to $41,340,181.

In this emergency and in view of its surrounding perplexities, it became entirely apparent to those upon whom the struggle for safety was devolved not only that our gold reserve must be for the third time in less than thirteen months be restored by another issue of interest and badly suited to a high rate of interest, but that a plan must be adopted for their disposition, promising better results than those realized on previous sales. An agreement was, therefore, made with a number of bankers and bankers whereby it was stipulated that bonds described in the resumption act of 1875, payable in coin thirty years after their date, bearing interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum and amounting to about $12,000,000, should be exchanged for gold, receivable by weight, amounting to a little more than $5,000,000.

This gold was to be delivered in such increments as would complete its delivery within about six months from the date of the contract and at least one-half of the amount was to be furnished from abroad. It was also agreed by those supplying this gold that during the continuance of the contract they would be subject to the power of the government to authorize their issue, bonds payable by weight in gold and bearing interest at the rate of 3 per cent per annum might within ten days be substituted at par for the 4 per cent bonds described in the agreement.

On the day this contract was made known to the public, a message was sent to congress by special executive messenger in which it was stated that more than sixteen millions of dollars would be saved to the government if gold bonds bearing 3 per cent interest were authorized to be substituted for those mentioned in the contract. The congress having declined to grant the necessary authority to secure this saving, the contract, unmodified, was carried out, resulting in a gold reserve amounting to $107,772,290 on the 8th day of July, 1895. The performance of this contract not only restored the reserve, but checked for a time the withdrawals of gold and brought on a period of restored confidence and such order and quiet in business circles as were of the greatest possible value to every interest that affects our people.

I have never had the slightest misgiving concerning the wisdom or propriety of this arrangement, and am quite willing to answer for my share of responsibility for its promotion. I believe it averted a disaster, the imminence of which was fortunately not at the time generally understood by our people. Though the contract mentioned stayed for a time the tide of gold withdrawals its good results could not be permanent.

On the 28th of January, 1895, it was reported by the secretary of the treasury that more than $172,000,000 of gold had been withdrawn for hoarding or shipment during the year preceding. He now reports that from January, 1879, to July 14, 1890, a period of more than eleven years, only a little over $28,000,000 was withdrawn, and that between July 14, 1890, the date of the passage of the law for an increased purchase of silver, and the day of December, 1895, or within less than five and one-half years, there was withdrawn nearly $375,000,000, making a total of more than $403,000,000 drawn from the treasury in gold since January 1, 1879, the date fixed in 1875 for the retirement of the United States notes.

Nearly $27,000,000 of the gold thus withdrawn has been paid for these United States notes, and yet every one of the $346,000,000 is still uncanceled, and ready to do service in future gold depletions. More than $76,000,000 in gold has, since their creation in 1890, been paid out from the treasury on the notes given in the purchase of silver by the government; and yet the whole amounting to $155,000,000, except a little more than $16,000,000 which have been retired by exchange for silver at the request of the holders, remains outstanding and prepared to join their older and more experienced allies in future raids upon the treasury gold reserve.

It has always seemed to me that the provisions of law regarding the capital of national banks which operate as a limitation to their location fails to make proper compensation for the suppression of state banks, which come near to the people in all sections of the country and really furnish the facilities with banking accommodations and facilities.

Any inconvenience or embarrassment arising from these restrictions on the location of national banks might well be remedied by better adapting the present system to the creation of banks in smaller communities or by permitting banks of large capital to establish branches in such localities as would serve the people, so regulated and restrained as to secure their safety and conservative control and management. In the present stage of our difficulty it is not easy to understand how the effect of our revenue receipts directly affects it. The important question is not the quantity of money received in revenue payments, but the kind of money we maintain and our ability to continue in sound financial condition. We are considering the government's holdings of gold as related to the soundness of our money and as affecting our national credit and monetary strength.

In our present predicament no gold is received by the government in payment of revenue charges, nor would there be if the revenues were increased. The receipts of the treasury, when not in silver certificates, consist of United States notes and treasury notes issued for silver purchases.

If it is said that the notes if held by the government can be used to obtain gold for our reserve, the answer is easy. The people draw gold from the treasury on demand, and United States notes and treasury notes, but the proposition that the treasury can draw gold from the people upon them would be regarded in these days with wonder and amusement. And even if this could be done, there is no fact to prevent this, thus parting with their gold and gaining it the next day or the next hour by the presentation of the notes they received in exchange for it.

Private holders of gold unlike the government, however, no party draws, would not be restrained from making the best bargain possible when they furnished gold for the treasury; but the moment the secretary of the treasury bought gold on any terms above par he would establish a precedent and universal premium upon it, thus breaking down the parity between gold and silver which the government is pledged to maintain and opening the way to new and serious complications.

It is neither unfair nor unjust to charge a large share of our present financial perplexities and dangers to the operation of the laws of 1878 and 1890 in compelling the purchase of silver by the government, which has furnished a new treasury obligation upon which its gold could be withdrawn, but so increased the fear of a forced descent to the payments that even the repeal of these laws did not entirely cure the evils of their existence.

FREE SILVER COINAGE.

While I have endeavored to make a plain statement of the disconcerting condition of our currency and the dangers menacing our property, and to suggest a way which leads to a safer financial system, I have constantly had in mind the fact that many of my countrymen, whose views are different, doubt, insist that the cure for this now threatening us may be found in the single and simple remedy of the free coinage of silver.

They contend that our mints shall be at once thrown open to the unlimited and independent coinage of both gold and silver dollars of full legal tender quality, regardless of the action of any other government and in full view of the ratio which the ratio between the metals which they suggest for one hundred cents worth of gold in the gold dollar at the present standard and only fifty cents in intrinsic worth of silver in the silver dollar.

Those who believe that our independent free coinage of silver at an artificial ratio with gold of 16 to 1 would win about six months from the date of the contract and at least one-half of the amount was to be furnished from abroad. It was also agreed by those supplying this gold that during the continuance of the contract they would be subject to the power of the government to authorize their issue, bonds payable by weight in gold and bearing interest at the rate of 3 per cent per annum might within ten days be substituted at par for the 4 per cent bonds described in the agreement.

BRITAIN'S ULTIMATUM

Turkey Given Until Saturday to Allow a Gunboat

TO PASS THE DARDANELLES.

Italy Endorses the Action of Great Britain and Is Getting Her Naval Force Ready—The Sultan Resolves to Break Diplomatic Relations.

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—A dispatch from Constantinople to the Frankfort Zeitung says that Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador, has had an interview with Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish minister for foreign affairs, during which the former notified the latter that Great Britain allowed Turkey until Saturday next in which to grant the permission for an additional guardship to pass the Dardanelles for the protection of the British embassy at Constantinople.

In the event of a refusal, the Frankfort Zeitung dispatch adds, Sir Philip informed Tewfik Pasha that a British gunboat would be sent through the Dardanelles without the permission asked for. It is further stated that Italy indorses the action of Great Britain in this matter.

The almost complete absence of news from the provinces renders it difficult to form an estimate of the situation as to the condition of Asiatic Turkey, the extent to which reform is being pushed and the degree to which rioting has been suppressed, are the points which influence the situation and serve as a guide to the possible action of the powers. Of course, all excuse for intervention would be done away with, to all intents and purposes, if, as the almost complete silence would indicate, order has been practically restored and there have been no further serious outbreaks. But in diplomatic circles here nobody seriously believes this to be the case.

The work of strengthening the fortifications of the Dardanelles continues night and day. The Turkish soldiers are busy at work throwing up fresh defenses, and the most busy scenes are witnessed from the entrance of the Dardanelles to the other side of Gallipoli. In addition, the Bosphorus entrance of the Sea of Marmora is being placed in condition for defense. Many torpedoes have been sunk in both passages, and the work is being pushed with astonishing vigor.

A London special says: "The Daily News correspondent telegraphs that a letter from a European at Marsovan says that on Saturday, after the massacre, there was a ghastly spectacle at the edge of the Armenian quarters. Corpses were brought by the wagon load and tossed upon the ground in heaps. Aside from the rifling of the bodies by the perpetrators of the slaughters, apelike hordes of barbarians pounced upon these heaps and stripped the dishonored carcasses of what poor clothing they had, leaving them in all degrees of nudity. Finally, about noon, a score of Armenians, headed by a priest, were sent under protection of soldiers to bury the corpses. Eighty-three of them were laid in a single trench. Probably about a hundred of them were killed."

The Vienna correspondent of The Daily News says that a telegram to the Turkish embassy there says that the sultan has resolved to break all diplomatic relations if the powers force the Dardanelles.

A dispatch from Rome to The Daily News says that there is great activity in all the Italian arsenals to prepare the whole naval force of the country. The cruiser Piemonte, the newest and fastest in the Italian service, her speed being 21 knots an hour, has been ordered to the Levant.

A Boston special says: The following cable has been received by Rev. Judson Smith, D. D., secretary of the foreign department of the American board: "Lettre received show most faithful work in the vicinity of Sivas and Harput. Survivors were offered Islam or the sword. Great pressure was brought to bear on them. Remittances to interior are now feasible. Relief work has been begun in many centers. Winter is at hand. Hurry remittances."

POLICEMEN DENIED IT.

A Seranton Preacher's Sensational Charge, Which Will Be Investigated.

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 4.—The entire police force of this city, with the exception of two policemen who are on their vacation, have been summoned before Mayor Connell and formally notified that Rev. Charles E. Robinson, of the Second Presbyterian church pulpit on Thanksgiving day, had charged that Scranton policemen led young men to houses of ill fame. Forty-nine were thus summoned, including four lieutenants and a desk sergeant. The officers of the force, individually, and the patrolmen collectively signed sworn affidavits denying the charge.

Dr. Robinson declares that the young men in question have consented to testify and name the guilty policemen. In view of the charge having been made from the pulpit, Mayor Connell will insist that an investigation be conducted in public. The affair is the talk of the town.

Shortly before train time Hill discovered one rail loose from the ties and bent perpendicularly at a point where the track is built on a steep bank. He ran three miles for assistance and, seizing a new tie, replaced the old one with it just in time to allow the train to pass.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

G. W. Wise has moved his family and household effects from this city to Allegheny.

The river has commenced to rise slowly, and if it does not get colder a good stage is expected.

A number of baskets of ware were shipped by express this morning to eastern points, the dealers being anxious to get the goods.

A local paper last night was so unkind as to entitle an editorial "The President's Massage," and the question is, did the sheet mean it.

Bitter complaint was heard last night because of the lack of heat in the opera house. It was almost as cold in the building as it was on the outside.

A section of the sewer passing through the back yard of the Hilbert House was so unkind as to collapse this morning, and the board of health was notified.

The junior class of the high school are making elaborate preparations for an entertainment to be given in the near future. None but members of the class will take part.

They don't use a great deal of water in Wellsville, for it was eight feet deep in the reservoir on Monday morning after the pump had been stopped during 36 hours.

Mrs. Rachel Allison, the lady who died in Grant district this week, was buried yesterday at Fairview. She was well known, and a large number of people attended the funeral.

The Lotus club and their lady friends danced in their pleasant quarters in the Thompson building last night. The organization is prosperous and yesterday purchased a handsome piano.

Avondale street, usually a mountain of mud, was yesterday frozen hard, and upon its surface were two broken wagons. One was the property of John Kelly and the other was owned by Jack Rowe.

The cold snap provided abundant work for the plumbers, many pipes having burst the past few days. The weather men say that the cold wave is by no means over, and it will be colder than ever tonight.

There was a rattling mill in an alley near the Fourth street building yesterday afternoon, the participants being two school boys who had a grievance to settle. A large number of school children made up the audience.

Liberty Tent, Rechabites, held an important meeting last evening, a large number of members being present, and the regular nomination of officers being passed through. The election will take place at the next meeting.

Motorman Fred Marsh was taken suddenly ill on his car on Sunday, and has been a sick man since, but is now getting better. Motorman E. C. Allison is almost well, although a few weeks ago it was thought that he could not recover.

The tramps were driven to the sewer pipe plants between this city and Wellsville in large numbers by the cold wave, the crowd being increased by the fact that the kilns at works down the river are cold and deserted because of the dullness of trade.

It is said that a local pottery has had so much difficulty in collecting its accounts these past few weeks that it could not pay its men on Saturday afternoon. The company, however, was hampered only for that time, and will soon be well off financially once more.

Conversation with a number of manufacturers shows that they anticipate a very decent trade after the holidays. They have the shapes, decorations and assortment, and they can see no reason why the dealers should not sell Liverpool ware when they can get it as cheap as they buy the foreign product.

George Williams, the wheelman who trained here last summer, and made many friends while in the city, is now with the Eclipse company in their new factory at Elmira. He writes George Hale that the company is preparing for a great deal of business next season, and that all the manufacturers expect to sell a vast number of wheels.

Harry Davis came in last evening from Akron, and says that the members of the Liverpool colony there are well, and working hard. A number will be here to spend the holidays when the pottery shuts down for repairs. He also brings word that Joseph Barker, a potter well known here, has become a renowned pool player, and will play with any one in town. He will be here to look for a game soon.

The business men who believe that advertisements are not read by the general public should take a lesson from this story. A typographical error appeared in a space ad in the NEWS REVIEW the other evening, and the next morning it had been mentioned in the office by a resident. Later in the day two other parties were kind enough to call attention to the mistake, showing that they all read the advertisement.

POLICEMEN DENIED IT.

A Scranton Preacher's Sensational Charge, Which Will Be Investigated.

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 4.—The entire police force of this city, with the exception of two policemen who are on their vacation, have been summoned before Mayor Connell and formally notified that Rev. Charles E. Robinson, in the Second Presbyterian church pulpit on Thanksgiving day, had charged that Scranton policemen led young men to houses of ill fame. Forty-nine were thus summoned, including four lieutenants and a desk sergeant. The officers of the force, individually, and the patrolmen collectively signed sworn affidavits denying the charge.

Dr. Robinson declares that the young men in question have consented to testify and name the guilty policemen. In view of the charge having been made from the pulpit, Mayor Connell will insist that an investigation be conducted in public. The affair is the talk of the town.

PREVENTED A WRECK.

A Poor Colored Farmer Saves a Train on a Western Railroad.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., Dec. 4.—An east-bound Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train, carrying St. Louis and Chicago sleepers and about 50 passengers, would have gone down a 40-foot embankment into a river, five miles southwest of this city, but for the heroism of Perry Hill, a poor colored farmer.

Shortly before train time Hill discovered one rail loose from the ties and bent perpendicularly at a point where the track is built on a steep bank. He ran three miles for assistance and, seizing a new tie, replaced the old one with it just in time to allow the train to pass.

INSURANCE MEN SUSPICIOUS.

$47,000 Drawn on a Dead Man Who May Have Suicided.

DELAWARE, O., Dec. 4.—Agents of several insurance companies are here investigating the cause of the death of George Warren, near Prospect. He died from the effects of a gunshot wound and now it is hinted that it was a case of suicide. He had $47,000 insurance on his life, but $12,000 of which had been in effect long enough to be contestable.

The companies having the insurance follow: Life, Home, New York, $2,000; Equitable, New York, $10,000; John Hancock, $10,000; Aetna, $5,000; Accident, New England, $5,000; and Interstate $15,000.

May Lynch a Teacher.

ROME, Ga., Dec. 4.—The threats of a lot of citizens living in and near West Rome that they will lynch William Harris, a negro schoolteacher, if he is caught, has brought that community to the verge of a race war. Harris, who has borne a good reputation heretofore, is charged with attempting an assault upon Miss Mary Hammon, a young white girl, who was at her father's home alone when the negro attempted to enter it. Her screams scared the negro and he fled.

The Indianapolis Fire.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 4.—The fire here caused a loss of $500,000. The firms burned out are: Schnell & Co., wholesale grocers; Ward Bros., druggists; Fairbanks & Morse, scales; Eckhouse Bros., liquors; Indiana Coffee Company and Hildebrand Hardware Company. Two firemen were hurt, probably fatally.

Fever Killing Spanish Soldiers.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—According to the crew of the Norwegian steamship Moringa, from Baracoa, Cuba, the fever ravages are killing off the Spanish soldiers at a lively rate. The soldiers stationed around Baracoa, not having become acclimated, are suffering terribly and dying like sheep.

A Shoe Failure in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 4.—Stevenson, Alexander & Co., one of the oldest and most prominent boot and shoe jobbers in Baltimore, has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors to Edward C. Eichelberger. The liabilities are supposed to be in the neighborhood of $150,000.

Killed While Resisting Arrest.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 4.—Joe Williams has been shot and killed by a sheriff's posse near Colina, Clay county, Tenn., and Alfred Rich seriously wounded while resisting arrest. Williams and Rich were charged with complicity in the murder of Captain Tom Armstrong.

A Preacher Murdered.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 4.—An old dispute, which has existed for some time between Rev. N. T. Lucas, a prominent Baptist minister residing near here, and the Zeals brothers, young farmers, has resulted in Lucas' death, being shot by one of the Zeals.

Three Children Burned to Death.

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 4.—At Gladstone village, during the absence of their mother, three children named Gangel, aged 4, 2 and 1 year, were burned to death. They were playing with fire and set fire to the house, which was burned to the ground.

Fastest Mile on a Bicycle.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 4.—Johnny Green, aged 21, has rode the fastest mile ever made on a bicycle here. It was an unmade, flying start, on a straight-away track, and was made in one minute and 25 seconds, breaking McLeod's record of 1:33 2-5.

Low Rate to G. A. R. Men.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 4.—Commander-in-Chief Walker and staff of the G. A. R. are in executive session for the transaction of Grand Army business in connection with the next encampment. A rate of 1 cent a mile has been secured from the railroads.

Determined to Confront the Hymns.

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 5.—The prosecution of the Hyams brothers, just acquitted of the charge of murdering young Wells, on the other charge of defrauding various insurance companies will be pushed with vigor and no expense will be spared.

Supposed to Be a Defaulter.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—Torrence O'Bar, secretary of a number of German building associations, has been missing for several days, and it is suspected that he is a defaulter to the extent of $25,000.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

G. W. Wise has moved his family and household effects from this city to Allegheny.

The river has commenced to rise slowly, and if it does not get colder a good stage is expected.

A number of baskets of ware were shipped by express this morning to eastern points, the dealers being anxious to get the goods.

A local paper last night was so unkind as to entitle an editorial "The President's Massage," and the question is, did the sheet mean it.

Bitter complaint was heard last night because of the lack of heat in the opera house. It was almost as cold in the building as it was on the outside.

A section of the sewer passing through the back yard of the Hilbert House was so unkind as to collapse this morning, and the board of health was notified.

The junior class of the high school are making elaborate preparations for an entertainment to be given in the near future. None but members of the class will take part.

They don't use a great deal of water in Wellsville, for it was eight feet deep in the reservoir on Monday morning after the pump had been stopped during 36 hours.

Mrs. Rachel Allison, the lady who died in Grant district this week, was buried yesterday at Fairview. She was well known, and a large number of people attended the funeral.

The Lotus club and their lady friends danced in their pleasant quarters in the Thompson building last night. The organization is prosperous and yesterday purchased a handsome piano.

Avondale street, usually a mountain of mud, was yesterday frozen hard, and upon its surface were two broken wagons. One was the property of John Kelly and the other was owned by Jack Rowe.

The cold snap provided abundant work for the plumbers, many pipes having burst the past few days. The weather men say that the cold wave is by no means over, and it will be colder than ever tonight.

There was a rattling mill in an alley near the Fourth street building yesterday afternoon, the participants being two school boys who had a grievance to settle. A large number of school children made up the audience.

Liberty Tent, Rechabites, held an important meeting last evening, a large number of members being present, and the regular nomination of officers being passed through. The election will take place at the next meeting.

Motorman Fred Marsh was taken suddenly ill on his car on Sunday, and has been a sick man since, but is now getting better. Motorman E. C. Allison is almost well, although a few weeks ago it was thought that he could not recover.

The tramps were driven to the sewer pipe plants between this city and Wellsville in large numbers by the cold wave, the crowd being increased by the fact that the kilns at works down the river are cold and deserted because of the dullness of trade.

It is said that a local pottery has had so much difficulty in collecting its accounts these past few weeks that it could not pay its men on Saturday afternoon. The company, however, was hampered only for that time, and will soon be well off financially once more.

Conversation with a number of manufacturers shows that they anticipate a very decent trade after the holidays. They have the shapes, decorations and assortment, and they can see no reason why the dealers should not sell Liverpool ware when they can get it as cheap as they buy the foreign product.

George Williams, the wheelman who trained here last summer, and made many friends while in the city, is now with the Eclipse company in their new factory at Elmira. He writes George Hale that the company is preparing for a great deal of business next season, and that all the manufacturers expect to sell a vast number of wheels.

Harry Davis came in last evening from Akron, and says that the members of the Liverpool colony there are well, and working hard. A number will be here to spend the holidays when the pottery shuts down for repairs. He also brings word that Joseph Barker, a potter well known here, has become a renowned pool player, and will play with any one in town. He will be here to look for a game soon.

The business men who believe that advertisements are not read by the general public should take a lesson from this story. A typographical error appeared in a space ad in the News Review the other evening, and the next morning it had been mentioned in the office by a resident. Later in the day two other parties were kind enough to call attention to the mistake, showing that they all read the advertisement.

Caution about the Use and Selection of Spectacles.

"Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 14 inches from the eye with ease and comfort. Any one who is unable to do so has defective vision. If unable to do so, your eyes are defective and you have indications of disease. When the eyes become tired, from reading, writing, or if the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure indication that disease is near. The sooner you get the right kind of spectacles, the sooner you will be able to see clearly. Continued use of these cheap lenses will result in serious injury from the constant strain upon the muscles of accommodation to supply the defect in the eye."

ONE MORE BIG SUIT

The City is Asked for Heavy Damages.

IT IS THE USUAL AMOUNT

Martin Weatherow, who fell on Mulberry Street last month, thinks he was permanently injured—More About That Salineville Coal Case.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Dec. 4.—Another suit against East Liverpool has been filed in court, the injured party asking the usual amount of damages. Martin Weatherow is the party, and he says that he fell a distance of eight feet off
a culvert on Mulberry street in East End, and was permanently injured.
He claims damages because the city did not have a proper railing on the bridge. The amount involved in this suit increases the damages asked against East Liverpool to a sum far beyond that of any town in the county.

The injunction granted a lot of property owners in Salineville last week against Brown brothers, who wanted to operate the old Farmer
mine, was modified by Judge Billingsley today. The defendants are permitted to work the mine, east of the eastern limits of the lots in question, but the other side of the case can select a competent miner to look after the work, and can examine and investigate at any time.

The Coats Manufacturing company,
a novelty concern which located here
a short time ago, made an assignment today to W. S. Potts. The assets and liabilities are not yet known. The company have been unfortunate.

AMBLER THE MAN.

According to the Way They See it in Lisbon.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Dec. 4.—The resignation of Judge Billingsley was accepted last evening by Governor McKinley, and he retired from the bench today.
It is very generally understood about Lisbon that B. S. Ambler, son of Judge Ambler, will get the appointment, and neither Judge Young nor P.
M. Smith will have the place. This it is claimed is the outcome of the contest for the place, and was prophesied
here some time ago although Mr.
Ambler was not named as the successful candidate. On the other hand it was expected that another attorney of Salem who has not been mentioned at all would be the winner. It matters not who gets the appointment, Judge Taylor will open court next Monday.

NEW OFFICERS.

Sons of Veterans Honored By Their Comrades.

The Sons of Veterans elected the following officers last night:
Captain, W. A. Davis; first lieutenant, Fred W. Timmons; second, W.
R. Dawson; camp counsel, J. J. Rose,
Charles Applegate and J. H. Moore;
delegate to division encampment,
Crisis McConnell; alternate, Joel B.
Taylor.

The camp is in better condition than ever before in its history. It is probable that the officers will be publicly installed early in January. Col. A. G.
McKenzie, of Wellsville, inspected the camp last night, and after it was over said that he doubted if there was a camp in the state that could get a better rating.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA.

They Select Officers For the Coming Year.

The following officers were elected by the Daughters of America last night:
Councillor, Homer Owens; assistant, George Morgan; vice councillor,
Miss Bessie Baxter; assistant, Miss Mary Jones; recording secretary, Miss Ada Bennett; assistant, Mrs. Welch; junior past councillor, Miss Kate Baxter; assistant, Mrs. Cromer; financial secretary, Mrs. Lowry; inside sentinel, Mrs. Cuppy; outside, Mrs. Kirkett.

After the election the members spent the evening very pleasantly in a social way.

MASONIC OFFICERS.

The Officers of Riddle Lodge Have Been Chosen.

At a meeting of Riddle Lodge,
Masons, last evening the following officers were elected:
Worshipful master, J. H. Brookes;
senior warden, John Stamm; junior warden, Frank E. Grosshans; senior deacon, Sherman Herbert; junior deacon, Criss Horton; treasurer, Jacob Shenkle; secretary, George Morley;
Tyler, J. W. King.

December 27 has been fixed as the date for installation, when the new officers will take their places.

Leland at the Grand Friday.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Solicitor Clark is in Lisbon today
on business.

—Zach Irwin went to Cambridge,
Pa. this morning.

—George Buxton, Sr., is in Pittsburg this afternoon on business.

—W. H. Adams and daughter, Miss Mayme, are among today's Pittsburg visitors.

—Miss Mame Wallock has returned to her home in Beaver Falls after visiting in this city.

—J. T. Davis, of near Alliance, returned to his home today, after a visit with friends in this city.

—Mrs. D. H. Ball returned to her home in Marquette, Mich., today after a two weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Walter B. Hill, Third street.

—Mrs. Fry, who sang so well at the Grand last night, was the guest of Mrs. Dix while in the city, and returned to her home in Rochester today. The ladies have been firm friends for a number of years.

OLD TRAPS.

The Inspectors Find that Some Buildings are Unsafe.

Mayor Gilbert, Chief Adam and Mr.
Little, who inspected buildings in the city yesterday afternoon, were surprised to find that many are unsafe.
They need attention, and the inspecting board made a little list of what they found, and will report to council when their work is done. It will require another tour of inspection to do this, for the board did not complete the work yesterday. In all probability council will order the buildings made safe, and if this is not done, or will entail too much expense, the old traps
will have to be torn down.

WILL MEET THE RATE.

There Will Undoubtedly be a Telephone
War.

There will undoubtedly be a brisk telephone war when the Phoenix company secures a franchise, and is ready for business. The Bell company have already shown that they can meet competition in the city, and it is understood that the rate of the Phoenix will be met as soon as the concern is ready to serve its subscribers. It was suggested today that, as two companies would cause confusion, and not make either very rich, council take the question in hand, and fix a maximum rate for telephones.

HAVE YOU BOUGHT IT?

This Is Interesting Many Residents of East Liverpool.

Some of the best men of East Liverpool, backed by mechanics who are anxious to secure a strong fund of information, and secure it in the least possible time, have gladly purchased Cram's New Universal Atlas of the World, in book form, and they now pronounce it one of the very best acquisitions to a library that can possibly be secured. It is a regular mine of much needed information on vital points. Mr. J. N. Weir, the gentlemanly agent, will call on you.

A Noted Basso.

Wilbur Harris, the famous and justly popular basso of Beaver county, will render several selections at the old fashioned singing school, to be given at the Grand opera house on Tuesday night, December 10, under auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian association. Harris is a splendid singer, and his work alone will be worth the price of admission. The entertainment, aside from this, will be a rich and varied one, and you will do well to secure your reserved seats at once, as they are going like wild fire. Miss Everson, the sweet singer of Wells-ville, will add much to the entertainment with choice selections.

They are all the rage. The people pronounce them unsurpassable and are flocking after them. What? The beautiful

Taken Suddenly Ill.

George Gaston, who resides on the hill, was seized with a sudden illness
this morning, but it was soon found that he was not in a dangerous condition. The gentleman was attacked by heart trouble, although at first it was thought his ailment was a stroke of paralysis.

The Sacred and Symbolic Palm.

From the very earliest times the palm tree has been recognized as a symbol of victory. Among the Greeks and the Romans palm branches were used to decorate the buildings and streets of their cities in honor of the return of a victorious army. This custom appears to have been taken from the eastern nations, but from what one in particular no one now knows.

At a very early age the Hebrews were accustomed to carry palm branches on all occasions of rejoicings. This custom having been observed on the entry of Christ into Jerusalem, the tree has come to bear a special symbolism among Christians. The primitive church used it to express the triumphs of the Christian over death through the resurrection. As early as the second century
A. D. it became the custom to carve palm branches on the tombstones of those who had died for the faith, and about the same time all pictures of martyrs were figures holding representations of palm branches in their hands.—St.
Louis Republic.

Baroness Rothschild.

The Baroness Rothschild paid a pretty if somewhat exaggerated compliment to a prima donna the other day.
She invited the young lady to dine with her and after dinner asked her to try the tone of her piano. Not a sound came from the keys when touched. "I had the instrument unstrung this morning, mademoiselle," said the baroness,
"that you might see that the only pleasure I promised myself from your presence this evening was the pleasure of your society."—London Tit-Bits.

Racing on the Street.

An expressman and a man in a buggy had a lively race on Fifth street
this afternoon, urging their horses along at the top of their speed. People stopped to wonder as they dashed by,
and suggestions that an arrest would do some good could be heard.

A Quiet Today.

The quiet that always follows a busy day at city hall could be seen about the place this afternoon. The jail was empty and all the prisoners gone. Not an arrest was made last night or this morning, and the police found no offenders this afternoon.

We Have the Grip.

With the coming of winter the grip has made its appearance in town and several physicians are treating cases.
It is not as severe as in former years,
but still possesses sufficient strength
to make its poor victims feel decidedly uncomfortable.

Broke the Bridle.

A horse hitched on Sixth street this morning scared at a street car, and in a wild effort to get away, broke the bridle. Then the animal was free, but then it seemed content to remain in its former position, and did not move.

A Clean Collar

One that you can keep clean all the time—a collar that does not wilt when you get over-heated; that does not fray on the edge, or tear out at the buttonholes, and can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet sponge or cloth. These collars and cuffs are made by covering linen collars or cuffs on both sides with waterproof "celluloid," thus giving strength and durability. They are the only waterproof goods so made, and every piece is stamped as follows:

LORD SALISBURY'S REPLY.

His Answer Regarding Venezuela Should Reach Washington Today.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The reply of the Marquis of Salisbury to Secretary Olney on the Venezuelan question was dispatched direct to Washington by mail and should be received by the British ambassador there, Sir Julian Pancufo today.

Your representative showed President Cleveland's message to congress,
to the United States ambassador here,
the Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, shortly after it was delivered to congress. Mr.
Bayard read it with much interest and said: "I have nothing to say, except that it is a most impressive utterance and characteristic of the able, straightforward man who made it."

Twelve Dead From Poisoning.

T XARKANA, Tex., Dec. 4.—At a negro cakewalk in Roseborough Place, near this city, the negroes ate their banquet supper, a good portion of a hog that had been spoiled by its owner on stry thupine, and twelve have died and a half dozen others are in bed.

Too Vigorous Against Socialists.

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—The report that Baron Von Koeller, the Prussian minister of the interior, had been dismissed
or account of the recent strong measures he has instituted against the socialists, ordering the closing of their clubs and the searching of their residences, is confirmed.

Unknown Canadian Girl Suicides.

BUFFALO, Dec. 4.—The body of an unknown girl who committed suicide at a fashionable boardinghouse and who is supposed to be from Canada lies at the morgue, unrecognized and unclaimed. It is that of a young woman about 24 years of age.

Ingersoll Will Wait and See.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 4.—Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll has been interviewed on the 3,000 prayers offered for him on Thanksgiving day. He is not visibly affected by the prayers which the Christian Endeavorers of the nation are causing to be made for his salvation.
When asked if he believed in the efficacy of these petitions he said: "Oh,
we'll have to wait and see."

May Cut Wire Nail Prices.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 4.—The leading wire nail manufacturers from the eastern states, Illinois and other western states are holding a secret conference in this city. Those in attendance refuse to talk as to the object of the meeting, but it is stated that a big cut will be made in the price of nails.

To Stop Expert Medical Testimony.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 4.—An important measure, to be introduced into the legislature during the coming session, will be one to abolish expert medical testimony in this state.

ONE MORE BIG SUIT
The City is Asked for Heavy Damages.

IT IS THE USUAL AMOUNT
Martin Weatherow, Who Fell on Mulberry Street Last Month, Thinks He Was Permanently Injured—More About That Sallineville Coal Case.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.
LISBON, Dec. 4.—Another suit against East Liverpool has been filed in court, the injured party asking the usual amount of damages. Martin Weatherow is the party, and he says that he fell a distance of eight feet off a culvert on Mulberry street in East End, and was permanently injured. He claims damages because the city did not have a proper railing on the bridge. The amount involved in this suit increases the damages asked against East Liverpool to a sum far beyond that of any town in the county.

The injunction granted a lot of property owners in Sallineville last week against Brown brothers, who wanted to operate the old Farmer mine, was modified by Judge Billingsley today. The defendants are permitted to work the mine, east of the eastern limits of the lots in question, but the other side of the case can select a competent miner to look after the work, and can examine and investigate at any time.

The Coats Manufacturing company, a novelty concern which located here a short time ago, made an assignment today to W. S. Potts. The assets and liabilities are not yet known. The company have been unfortunate.

AMBLER THE MAN.
According to the Way They See it in Lisbon.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.
LISBON, Dec. 4.—The resignation of Judge Billingsley was accepted last evening by Governor McKinley, and he retired from the bench today. It is very generally understood about Lisbon that B. S. Ambler, son of Judge Ambler, will get the appointment, and neither Judge Young nor P. M. Smith will have the place. This is claimed is the outcome of the contest for the place, and was prophesied here some time ago although Mr. Ambler was not named as the successful candidate. On the other hand it was expected that another attorney of Salem who has not been mentioned at all would be the winner. It matters not who gets the appointment, Judge Taylor will open court next Monday.

NEW OFFICERS.
Sons of Veterans Honored by Their Comrades.
The Sons of Veterans elected the following officers last night: Captain, W. A. Davis; first lieutenant, Fred W. Timmons; second, W. R. Dawson; camp counsel, J. J. Rose, Charles Applegate and J. H. Moore; delegate to division encampment, Criss McConnell; alternate, Joel B. Taylor.

The camp is in better condition than ever before in its history. It is probable that the officers will be publicly installed early in January. Col. A. G. McKenzie, of Wellsville, inspected the camp last night, and after it was over said that he doubted if there was a camp in the state that could get a better rating.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA.
They Select Officers For the Coming Year.
The following officers were elected by the Daughters of America last night: Councilor, Homer Owens; assistant, George Morgan; vice councilor, Miss Bessie Baxter; assistant, Miss Mary Jones; recording secretary, Miss Ada Bennett; assistant, Mrs. Welch; junior past councilor, Miss Kate Baxter; assistant, Mrs. Cromer; financial secretary, Mrs. Lowry; inside sentinel, Mrs. Cuppy; outside, Mrs. Kirkett.

After the election the members spent the evening very pleasantly in a social way.

MASONIC OFFICERS.
The Officers of Riddle Lodge Have Been Chosen.
At a meeting of Riddle Lodge, Masons, last evening the following officers were elected: Worshipful master, J. H. Brookes; senior warden, John Stamm; junior warden, Frank E. Grosshans; senior deacon, Sherman Herbert; junior deacon, Criss Horton; treasurer, Jacob Shenkle; secretary, George Morley; Tyler, J. W. King.

December 27 has been fixed as the date for installation, when the new officers will take their places.

—Miss Mame Wallock has returned to her home in Beaver Falls after visiting in this city.
—J. T. Davis, of near Alliance, returned to his home today, after a visit with friends in this city.
—Mrs. D. H. Ball returned to her home in Marquette, Mich., today after a two weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Walter B. Hill, Third street.
—Mrs. Fry, who sang so well at the Grand last night, was the guest of Mrs. Dix while in the city, and returned to her home in Rochester today. The ladies have been firm friends for a number of years.

OLD TRAPS.
The Inspectors Find that Some Buildings are Unsafe.
Mayor Gilbert, Chief Adam and Mr. Little, who inspected buildings in the city yesterday afternoon, were surprised to find that many are unsafe. They need attention, and the inspecting board made a little list of what they found, and will report to council when their work is done. It will require another tour of inspection to do this, for the board did not complete the work yesterday. In all probability council will order the buildings made safe, and if this is not done, or will entail too much expense, the old traps will have to be torn down.

WILL MEET THE RATE.
There Will Undoubtedly be a Telephone War.

There will undoubtedly be a brisk telephone war when the Phoenix company secures a franchise, and is ready for business. The Bell company have already shown that they can meet competition in the city, and it is understood that the rate of the Phoenix will be met as soon as the concern is ready to serve its subscribers. It was suggested today that, as two companies would cause confusion, and not make either very rich, council take the question in hand, and fix a maximum rate for telephones.

A Noted Basso.
Wilbur Harris, the famous and justly popular basso of Beaver county, will render several selections at the old fashioned singing school, to be given at the Grand opera house on Tuesday night, December 10, under auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian association. Harris is a splendid singer, and his work alone will be worth the price of admission. The entertainment, aside from this, will be a rich and varied one, and you will do well to secure your reserved seats at once, as they are going like wild fire. Miss Everson, the sweet singer of Wellsville, will add much to the entertainment with choice selections.
